COMMUNICATION.

TO GEORGE G. BREWER, Esq.

Clerk of the House of Delegates of Md.

DEAR SIR:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your favor of the 2nd inst. enclosing an order of the House of Delegates requiring of the Agent of the State Colonization Society a “statement of the amount of money received and expended since the organization of the society; the number of free people of color transported from the State by the said society; the number specifically from each county; the amount of money now in the Treasury; and the amount which each county has respectively paid in.”

Presuming that any information with regard to the subject in addition to a direct answer to the above interrogatories would be desirable I have taken the liberty of transcribing a detailed statement of the affairs and operations of the society since its organization made by the President J. H. B. Latrobe, Esq. in answer to a number of interrogatories addressed to the “Managers of the Maryland State Colonization Fund” by “E. Hammond, Esq. Chairman of the committee on coloured population of House of Delegates for the session of 1839 and ’40,” and which will be found on the records of the House of Delegates of that session.

I am moved to this course by the fact that the annual report of the managers of the State Fund transmitted to the Executive of the State and also the report of the board of Managers of the State Colonization Society relate mainly to the operations of these respective bodies during the current year and of course afford but little information to the gentlemen of the Legislature of the actual extent of the operations of the society from the beginning.

It will be perceived that all information obtainable on points referred to in the order of the House of Delegates contained in your communication is embodied in this document. I have of course substituted the amount of money received and expended and the number of emigrants transported up to the present time instead of that contained in the original paper.

I regret not being able to give information upon all the specifications of the order of the House. 1st. we have no means of definitely ascertaining the proportion of the free emigrants to those manumitted for the express purpose of emigrating. They, however far exceed the latter probably over three to one. 2ndly. If it is acquired to know the amount of money in the State Treasury for the colonization Society, I am unable to give an answer : if the society's treasury is referred to, I answer, none. 3dly. The "amount which each county has respectfully paid in." I have no means of ascertaining this, as all monies received by the managers of the State fund come through the Treasurer of the Western Shore. The act of 1831, in which originated the present system of Colonization by the State, indicates the proportion which each county is to pay and perhaps would give satisfactory information on this point. I trust, sir, that on all other points the information contained in the accompanying report and documents appended will be entirely satisfactory.

I would take occasion here to remark that affairs connected with colonization both in this State and the colony have assumed a very different aspect since the preparation of the enclosed report. Up to that period it will be perceived the greatest difficulties had been experienced in procuring emigrants for the colony and every obstacle had been thrown in the way of the operations of the Colonization Society by the abolitionists who justly considered this scheme as patronized and adopted by Maryland as the only bar to the success of their principles and measures. Within the past two years, however, no difficulty has been experienced in procuring as many volunteers as the funds of the society would enable them to carry out and support through their acclamation, or as it is judged the colony could advantageously receive. The average of the number sent the past two years shews an increase of more than fifty per cent. over the average number sent the eight preceding years of the existence of the Maryland Colony.

There is reason to believe that through the system at present adopted by the society of causing a return of one or two colonists of influence and respectability annually, to mingle with their old associates, no difficulty will hereafter be experienced in obtaining any desirable number of emigrants, and those too of the right stamp.

In Africa many of the difficulties which attended the infancy and early progress of the colony are disappearing as it gradually assumes a permanent and established character. Its numerical strength and moral influence is now such as to relieve its citizens from any apprehensions of violence on part of the natives by whom they are surrounded and of course they are left free to devote their whole energies to the improvement of their condition.

The recent establishment of an American Squadron on the coast of Africa embracing in it cruising ground our Maryland Colony and the order by the Secretary of the Navy for the survey of our harbour (one of the best on the Africa coast) and their necessity of resorting to it for supplies, provisions, water, &c. will add much to its importance, give a new impetus to American commerce in that quarter and materially strengthen the bonds between it and its parent State.

In short I may add that uninterrupted and unexampled success has attended the colony since its first establishment, that its citizens have demeaned themselves in a manner worthy of the high character of the State from which they emigrated and that they trust with unshaken confidence in the faith of the State to prosecute and consummate the scheme in which it has so nobly embarked.

With much respect,

I have the honor to be,

Your very obedient servant,

JAMES HALL,

Gen. Agt. Md. State Col. Society.

STATEMENT.

“TO CHARLES HOWARD, WM. R. STUART

AND FRANKLIN ANDERSON, ESQRS.

GENTLEMEN :—I herewith communicate answers to the interrogatories of the committee on colored population of the House of Delegates, placed by you in my hands for that purpose.

“To the 1st interrogatory—The whole number of persons transported to Africa by the managers of the State Fund and the State Colonization Society, since 1831, has been “eight hundred and twenty-two,” which includes the emigrants sent by the Lafayette and the Orion to the old colony, and twenty-five to Hayti.

“To the 2nd interrogatory—This will be found answered in Document A, hereto appended, so far as it is practicable to answer it. The names of the emigrants are there given, and the years in which they sailed from Baltimore; and as far as now known, their places of residence prior to their transportation. It is to be remarked, that the society have always had more room for emigrants than was filled in their vessels. They were never obliged from the number of applicants, to apportion the number sent out among the counties; and therefore the only question has been, whether the emigrants were from Maryland. On this head the society has been, in every instance, particular; replying to all applications from other States, and they have been frequent, that the fund of the State was limited to the use of emigrants from within its own borders; and that the State Society had determined to adopt the same limitation in the expenditure of the means that it might obtain from individual subscriptions. In three instances emigrants were sent from other States than Maryland. The servants of Mrs. Tubman, of Georgia, and Mr. Bayard, of Carolina, experienced cotton planters, whom the society was desirous to obtain as colonists, that they might introduce the cultivation of this staple; and some servants of Mr. Wever, of Frederick county, Maryland, but who were resident in Virginia, and who went out with Maryland servants of the same master. In all these cases the full cost of transportation and support in Africa, was paid by the respective owners, besides a handsome outfit which they gave to their people.

“In the case of the Tubman servants, who formed almost the entire expedition of the Baltimore, the result of the voyage was a profit to the society, as will be seen by referring to their balance sheet, where there is credited to the brig Baltimore, the sum of $76 18. The society chartered the vessel and being paid the usual freight and passage money by Mrs. Tubman, made the profit of the voyage out; so that this expedition was no charge to them.

"The information asked now by the committee has made apparent the utility of keeping hereafter an accurate account of the residence and circumstances of each emigrant, and it will accordingly be done.

"It has been remarked that there has always been room in the society's vessel for more emigrants than have been sent. This needs, perhaps, a word of explanation. It is the duty of the agent for collecting emigrants, to visit every county in the State during the year, and to ascertain who will emigrate. His list when made up, is reported to the Board of Managers. He is then sent to collect the emigrants. On this second visit he has invariably found that he has been followed by enemies to colonization, who have filled the minds of those who proposed to emigrate with the doctrines of the abolitionists, the leading one of which is, that by leaving the United States, the colored people impair their chance of getting "their rights," as they are called, by numerical influence. This the agent has found in very many cases sufficient to deter emigrants already on the list, and for whom places had been prepared, and in consequence there has been disappointment in the numbers of every expedition yet sent to Cape Palmas. In Maryland, colonization and abolition are antagonists, and the aim of the latter is to destroy the former; and this has been the case since 1834. Had it not been for abolition, it is believed that every expedition would have taken out as many emigrants as sailed in the Lafayette in 1832, before the abolitionists obtained strength or influence. This is not a pleasant confession to make, but it is true. Laterly there is a change in this respect, however, for the better. The steady course of colonization has given to it the character of a settled policy, and its opponents in this State are believed to be getting "fired out."

"To the 3rd interrogatory—This is fully answered by Document A.

"To the 4th interrogatory—The officers of the society consist of a President, six Vice Presidents, twelve Managers, two Secretaries, a Treasurer, an Agent, and a Clerk. The agent and the clerk are the only persons receiving compensation. The salary of the agent is $1,000; the clerk's salary is $200. The duty of the agent includes all the office duties, which may be supposed to belong to such an office, while he is in Baltimore, and it is his duty to go to every county in the State in search of emigrants, and to disseminate information on the subject of colonization; and these duties he punctually performs. He collects emigrants, makes purchases for the expedition, and has a general control of all matters touching the society, under the instructions of the board. The clerk keeps the office when the agent is absent, does the copying, serves notices, &c. The office rent is $120.

"There is a person employed at this time in collecting the individual annual subscriptions now due in Baltimore to the society, at $50 per month. His employment is but temporary however, and will cease on the 1st April, at farthest.

The average expenses for salaries, office rent, &c., since the organization of the society, have been $1,573 12 per annum. This average is higher than the present amount paid, owing to the employment formerly, at one time, of two agents, with the view of more effectually canvassing the State.

“To the 5th interrogatory—The whole amount of money received from the State by the society has been

“To the 6th interrogatory—This is answered, as far as practicable by document A.

“To the 7th interrogatory—Accompanying these answers is a copy of the eighth annual report of the State Society, which contains, on page 11, a balance sheet from its organization and which will convey as accurate general idea of the manner in which the expenditure have been made as could be conveyed, without a particular examination of the books, in which every transaction will be found entered with the accuracy of a mercantile establishment. But it may not be irrelevant to state here, the general course of business of the society.

“The funds of the Society are derived from three sources—the State, individual contributions, and their trade—all of which go to one object, the promotion of the objects of the act of 1831.

“The expenditures being principally incurred in sending emigrants to Africa, and supporting them there, the chief outlay is to be found under the head of the different expeditions on the books. Instead of permitting the agent in Africa to draw on the society for his expenses; goods are sent out to meet them. These goods on the coast of Africa are worth one hundred per cent, more than they cost, and this is the saving of sending goods instead of accepting and paying drafts. The principal article sent is tobacco, which when bought in Baltimore at $10, sells in Africa at $20. At the end of every year, therefore, there is a profit made, which is carried to the credit of profit and loss, which item on the balance sheet has $9,046 98, to its credit, after charging it with all matters on which loss has been made in all departments of business; the real profit made by the transactions being much greater than this sum.

“When a shipment is made to Africa, the agent there is charged with it, and when he returns his semi-annual accounts he is credited so far as he accounts for it. When the accounts of the agent show how he has spent the funds, the object to which they are applied are charged, and the expeditions credited.

“The expedition by the Bourne, for instance, cost $3,691 25. Subsequent accounts of the agent showed what portion of her cargo had been spent in opening roads, supporting emigrants, buying territory, &c. &c., and at length she remained charged with but $1,096 07, the balance having been shown to be properly applied. The sum of $1,096 07 is therefore the actual cost to the State and the society of the mere transportation of the emigrants by the Bourne. The balance of the cost of the expedition having been accounted for by showing its appropriation to matters connected with their support on the voyage, and for six months in Africa, providing for their reception there, and the general wants of the colony. Were the Bourne's emigrants (taking this vessel for example,) fifty-seven in number, to be carried out by other than the society, the cost of mere transportation might be set down at $30 round, or $1,710; shewing a saving by the operation, of $613 93, supposing that the general expenses alluded to had at all events to be borne.

“When the society’s colony increases so as to be beyond the necessity of receiving the aid incident to its establishment, and the first years of its existence, the cost of each expedition will of course be reduced.

“In this way the affairs of the society are necessarily of a commercial character in a great degree; and they are managed carefully and with prudence, through the aid of the merchants in the Board, who give their attention to the subject.

“Among other items in the balance sheet will be seen Colonization Journal, $1,484 93, on the debit side. This Journal has been found very useful in disseminating information on the subject. It is paid for by those who receive it, as an ordinary newspaper, and besides supporting itself is a source of revenue to the society. The receipts from it are included in the head of contributions on the other side of the sheet.

“Samuel F. McGill is charged on the balance sheet with $734 25. This was the expense of educating the son of a colonist as a Physician, which was done at a northern Medical school, and the society is now relieved from the anxieties which the uncertainty of having sufficient medical attendance at the colony always occasioned.

“It would be very gratifying to me to show to the committee the books of the society, from which alone can the nature and extent of its operations be fully understood—and the amount of labour performed in a year be appreciated.

The last annual report will, perhaps, however, with the answers now given, be sufficient for the purpose of the present enquiry.

“It may here be remarked, as a result of an examination of the balance sheet, that the contributions of the society to the object of the act of 1831, amounting to $31,522 91, have been several hundred dollars more than sufficient to pay for the purchase of territory in Africa,—and all the home expenses, and the expenses of the government in Africa, and agencies, since the organization of the society, leaving the funds of the State to be applied to the removal of emigrants, the preparation of a place for them, and their support there, till able to support themselves.

Or thus:

African Civil List, (all salaries there,) -	-	$12,741 31
Home expenses (salaries, rent &c. in U. S.) -	-	14,158 15
Expenses of agency house in Africa, -	-	2,247 29
Purchase of territory in Africa, -	-	2,054 93

31,191 78

Contributed by the State Society, - - 31,522 91

Leaving on these items $331 13, in favor of the society, after charging it with the cost of territory, and all the home and foreign expenses of agency, government, &c. as above.

"These remarks are made in this place with a view of showing, that while the society have, as they most gratefully acknowledge, been able to promote this great and useful undertaking in which they are engaged, mainly through the assistance of the State, and the wise forethought of its policy,—the society have also contributed to an important extent in the promotion of the objects which the State had in view in its legislation on the subject.

"Inasmuch as these questions have been propounded by the committee, questions which it has afforded me the highest satisfaction to answer, it may be, perhaps permitted me to express my earnest prayer that no legislation adverse to the present policy of the State, under existing laws, may take place which shall in any wise weaken the friends that have been labouring for years without compensation, to carry out the views which were entertained when the colonization laws, as they are termed, were passed,—whose labours, their point and results, were annually detailed at the meetings of the society during the sessions of the legislature in Annapolis. Upon the legislation of the State, upon its settled policy as it was understood, there are now near 800 emigrants on the coast of Africa. Now they are weak. They now hang on those who placed them there. To repeal the law—to take away the fund, would be followed by melancholy consequences to them; and I trust that the funds in question will not be impaired but that the law will be permitted to remain, until, by its terms, these funds shall be exhausted."

"All which is respectfully submitted,

JOHN H. B. LATROBE,

Prest. Md. St. Col. Society."

BRIG ANN, sailed from Baltimore to found the Colony at Cape Palmas, for the Maryland State Colonization Society. But a small number embarked, it being resolved to obtain acclimated persons at Monrovia to make the first settlement; and twenty-five were obtained at Monrovia accordingly, most of whom had been sent out in the Lafayette. The Ann sailed 28th November, 1833.
